DOWIE, SHAVER REPRESENTING CW AT PNCC MEETING

Delegates from 33 colleges and universities are now in session at the annual Pacific Northwest College Congress meeting being held at Whitman College at Walla Walla March 3 to 6.

Don Dowie, junior from Puyallup and Mary Lou Shaver, sophomore from Sumner, are representing the Student Government Association of CWC at the conference. Dowie is participating in the section concerned with a discussion and study of the Little Assembly of the UNO. Miss Shaver will take part in the section concerned with the UNESCO.

The subjects to be dealt with by the PNCC are as follows:

1. The Little Assembly (objectives, structure, powers, connection with UNO charter, accomplishments to date, expected accomplishments and the need of Russia's cooperation).
2. Enforcements of United Nations Decisions.
3. The Marshall Plan (effectiveness, effect on UN etc.)
4. UNESCO (structure, functions, accomplishments, problems the UNESCO deals with, extent of moulding world opinion).
5. Responsibility in Public Information (functions of the press radio and movies in society, etc.)

Special speakers arranged for the delegation to date include Olav Paus-Grunt, chief of the educational division of UNESCO, for whom this may be his final speaking appearance in the United States before returning to his position as a university professor in Norway, and Charles Leigh Wheeler, shipping and lumber executive of San Francisco who will give the major talk on the Marshall Plan.

Students To Vote Tomorrow, Select Queen and Court

The Colonial Ball, to be held Saturday, March 6, will be one of the last important social events of the winter quarter. Traditionally the Ball is the only formal function of the quarter and provides a fitting close for the social season.

The theme of this year's dance will combine the colonial tradition with blue champagne. The decorations and programs will carry out the theme. An advanced program sale will be held Thursday and Friday. The admission has been changed to 75c per couple.

Music will be furnished by the Music Makers and dancing will continue until 12 o'clock.

The highlight of the evening will come during intermission at which time the queen of the Ball will be announced and crowned.

The queen will be chosen this week by an all student election from a group of six candidates nominated by the "W" Club. They are: Mary Lou James, freshman, from Sunnyside; Rita Jobe, freshman from Goldendale; Alice Samuelson, freshman from Selah; Leona Sheely, freshman from Richland; Evelyn Cain, sophomore from Sunnyside and Nadene Johnson, senior from Puyallup.

CONCERT TUESDAY

A concert presented by the CWCE band will be presented next Tuesday at 10 a. m. in the auditorium, stated band director A. Bert Christianson.

"We will try to change the program a little and put in a few things that will be entirely new. We will endeavor to give you 50 minutes of good music with plenty of variety which should appeal to all," emphasized Mr. Christianson.

THE AAUP URGES ACTION ON WORLD PEACE PROGRAM

A definite policy of action for world peace was adopted this week by the Central Washington College chapter of the American Association of University Professors.

Three courses of action were adopted in a resolution receiving unanimous approval by faculty members of the group. The resolution provided that:

1. Members of the college chapter urge congress to give immediate favorable action to House concurrent resolution 59 which requires the President of the United States to take the initiative immediately in calling a general conference of the United Nations "for the purpose of making the United Nations capable of enacting, interpreting and enforcing world law to prevent war."
2. Members give all possible aid to special education of the students on the campus and citizens of the congressional district as to immediate perils of our civilization and how they may be eliminated.
3. This resolution be presented to the annual convention of the A. A. U. P. in St. Louis, Mo., this week and that they be urged to adopt a similar one.

Action in the form of this resolution was proposed by members of the action committee of the local chapter in relation to their study this year of "What the Small College Can Do for World Peace."

Members of the action committee are Miss Jesse Puckett, chairman Dr. E. E. Samuelson, Dr. J. Richard Wilmeth, Seldon Smyser, and Dr. Wilfred W. Newschwander. Dr. A. J. Foy Cross, president of the Central Washington College chapter, will present the resolution to the national convention of A. A. U. P. this week.

Central Drama Department Depicts The Romantic Scenese of "Dear Ruth" In College Auditorium

By DAN RANNIGER

Dear Ruth,

"I have a confession to make. I met an English girl at a dance last night. She was quite pretty, and I kissed her good night. Do I tell you this to relieve my conscience, or am I pretending I'm really honest? I wouldn't have kissed her if I hadn't felt she expected it. She was the aggressor, I swear it!"

COLONIAL BALL TICKETS

Les Houser, general chairman of the Colonial Ball, wishes to announce that the tickets for the Ball are $.75 a couple and not $1.25 as previously announced.

VARNER STANDS PAT AWAITING SGA ACTION REGARDING PETITION

The fate of the present editor of the Campus Crier is as yet undecided. The petition to remove Gerald Varner from the editorship of the student publications was presented to the Student Government Association at a regular meeting held last week.

Ruling the petition valid, the SGA postponed any definite action until they had investigated the situation by meeting with the Campus Crier staff. This meeting was to have taken place last evening, too late for news coverage in this edition.

The petition was circulated by Ross Jackson, because, as he said the paper was not up to par with what a school paper should be. Jackson has indicated that he will not direct any farther campaign against Varner, since the petition has been filed. The petition contained 120 signatures, including those of seven Crier staff members.

The SGA refused a request made by Varner that a public hearing be held to discuss and evaluate the points pro and con. Varner's request for a public election was also refused. The SGA declined to comment as to what effect a counter petition would produce.

Varner said that he realized the SGA had the power to remove him under the present constitution, but that it could not legally list the petition as a reason for removal unless the above points were given due consideration.

"I believe that our principles are sound, and I trust that the Executive Board of SGA will view the situation with an open mind before deciding on a plan of action. This is a test of their capabilities to serve the public; no one realizes this more than they do," Varner said.

FACULTY MEMBERS MEET IN PORTLAND

Dr. E. E. Samuelson, director of personnel and placement, and Mrs. Annette Hitchcock, dean of women, leave today, for Portland, Oregon where they will attend a meeting of the Northwest College Personnel Association to be held on Friday and Saturday, March 5 and 6. The Northwest Association of Deans of Women will meet at this time also.

Dr. W. H. Cowley, nationally known for his research in the field of college personnel, will come from Stanford University to be the principal speaker at the banquet on Friday evening. Representatives from the colleges and universities of Washington, Oregon, Idaho, and Montana will attend this conference.

Lt. Bill Seawright, USA, has literary inclinations. His powers of rhetoric turn a once normal and happy home into an emotional shambles. Delmar Thompson is the scoundrel.

CWC business majors may be prepared to idolize one Albert Kummer, who represents the staid and respectable civilian interests in playing Bill's romantic rival. Don Fenton portrays this hero.

Poor Ruth! Torm between security and love. Of course Donna McCune, who plays, "the trouble of it all" chooses bread and water to caviar.

Father Harry, collector of traffic tickets, is supreme on the judicial bench but a confused and innocent by-stander at home. Dan Ranniger dons the robes of law.

Phyllis Dunlap tries to retain sanity in the battle of army vs. money interests.

Bill Cable and Evelyn Cain complicate matters further with a little romantic battle of their own.

Complete with dialect and uniform, Unice Knutson battles daffodils and panda bears, in line with her duties of the maid, Dora.

The play is directed by Mr. Norman Howell, of the CWC Drama Department.

Gerhard Dieckmann plays a dramatic lead as Harold Klobbermeyer, a returning sailor who, in but a few lines, depicts a powerful romantic situation.

According to rumors from people who should know, "Dear Ruth" may not set the world on fire, but things should be warm in the CWC auditorium.

The first performance of Dear Ruth will take place in the College auditorium tonight, with another following Friday.

Band Tour Hailed As Huge Success

By DICK NORMAN

The band was received very cordially at the six high schools they visited on the two one day trips through the central part of the state last week, according to Bert Christianson, band director.

"At every appearance the school officials expressed their appreciation of the bands appearance and complimented the students on their fine conduct," Christianson revealed. "As director, I am extremely proud of the organization and the professional way in which the concerts were presented. The general feeling was that the band was a missionary of good will for Central Washington College."

"We were impressed not only by the musical ability of the band as a whole, and the outstanding solo numbers, but we were doubly impressed by the gentleman conduct and good spirit of the entire group. You can be justly proud to have such a fine band represent your school," stated a letter from the principal of Highland high school.

The program had added variety with several solo numbers. Jim Smith, baritone solo; Ralph Manzo, vocal soloist and the trombone quartet—Milton Richards, Kenneth Dulin, Vern Harkness and Gordan Sylvester.

NO POLITICS THIS TIME

Indications show that there may be political groups involved in the SGA Spring election.

Should parties be organized, The Crier will carry the news any of these groups care to release, stating party officials as authority, but The Crier will not back any of these movements because the paper is for all students. So give us your information and we'll attach your name to it and print it.

Don't Suppress Your Emotions; It's Dangerous, Get It Off Your Chest

(Editor's Note: Opinions expressed in letters to the editor are the property of the people who sign them. Such ideas are not necessarily those of The Crier or any of its staff members. All letters should be concise and to the point. They must be addressed to the editor and signed by the person whose opinions conform with those stated in the letter. ## Staff Writer Re-Acts

To whom it may concern:
Letter to the Editor Dept.
Campus Crier

For some mysterious reason, many of the readers of the Campus Crier expect its writers to produce work of experienced journalists.

One must take into consideration that reporters for the Crier have little if any experience in the writing of news stories. They are trying to learn by actual writing practice. Very few of the staff are majoring in journalism, only writing because they enjoy the work and want the experience offered from it.

The editors of the Crier have made pleas after pleas for people to write in and give constructive criticisms, not just statements that throw slams at some particular writer or writers. The director of publications has watched the incoming mail closely for any letters of criticism that if attended to would improve the quality of the paper. However, none have come in.

In singling out one letter in particular, the one from Duncan Bonjorni published in the February 26 edition of the Campus Crier: Mr. Bonjorni criticizes the column containing the remark concerning Marv Harshman, Pacific Lutheran basketball coach. He states the paper came out with a statement detrimental to the character of Harshman. However, someone certainly should have informed Harshman that it just isn't ethical to criticize the officials officiating an athletic function, especially when his team is participating in the event. Perhaps he should take some lessons in courtesy from Leo S. Nicholson.

The offer still goes. Anyone that can offer any criticism which is constructive, and that puts a finger on what is actually wrong with the paper, that person's advice will be followed. It has been said a hundred times if once that this paper is printed for and in the interest of the students, and not just one group of people. You pay for this paper and the writers want to give you the best they are capable of giving.

Concerning Ross Jackson's petition for the removal of Gerry Varner as editor of the Crier, I feel Mr. Jackson knows as little about newspaper work as he did in '46 when he was editor of the College paper for four weeks. After one reads his paper, one can readily understand why he resigned, and one would also think twice before signing any petition distributed by Mr. Jackson.

I do not know the policy of the publications advisor in '46 before Bert Cross came, but doubt that he advised lead sentences to be four or five column inches long. No person with the least bit of journalistic knowledge would endorse that style of writing.

Differences of opinions are alright and add to the liveliness of the campus. These differences help add variety and start one thinking as to what is better for the group as a whole. I only hope that everyone thinks twice before signing any peti-

EXPRESS OPINION

To The Editor:

As our previous letter has gone unpublished we feel that we should be able to voice our opinions and state clearly our positions to the best of our mediocre abilities.

In our previous letter, which was said to be too libelous to print, we said that Jarrett's "Bug Bug Iggle Woggle" was too childish for a school of our academic standards was on even too low a plain for college elementary school pupils.

Our other objection is to Jarrett's indiscriminate use of his column to vent his personal grievances, this is evident of his last week's column. We cannot see how an editor of college level allows articles of this sort in our college paper.

In the meantime we found other people who concur with our opinions. In closing we hope that this bit of constructive criticism will aid your future journalistic style. As mediocre students we are still above "Bug Bug Iggle Woggle" stage. Also we see no need for personal fueds in his column.

We suggest that Jarrett learn to take it as well as dish it out.

WANTS ANSWER

To the Editor:

I think it was most regrettable that there was not a mixer after the game last Saturday nite (Feb 21). It was rumored that the reason we didn't have one was because the faculty thought we were having too many dances.

Would they rather have the girls and fellows roaming the Ellensburg streets, out "necking" and spending their time at "Sid's"? It seems to me that mixers after our games had become a tradition and if that really was the reason for postponing the dance their reasoning was very poor.

If the girls do have leaves until 12 they'll stay out till that time anyway. Why not give them a place to go where they can have fun and be kept out of mischief?

A clerk at the employment agency liked to have his little joke occasionally at the expense of the applicant.

"Where were you born?" he asked Michael.

"Faith, in the auld County Down."

"Whatever for?" The clerk asked wittily.

"At such a toime." Michael answered, "twas me dootiful wish to be with me mother."

The Girl: "What's the difference between dancing and marching?"

The Boy: "Gosh! I don't know."

The Girl: "That's what I thought. Shall we sit tais one out?"

WALNUT ST. DORMS PLAN AN EXTENDED SOCIAL PROGRAM

By MARY HITCHCOCK

A more extensive social program for the Walnut Street Dormitories was the topic of the discussion at a meeting called by Dr. E. E. Samuelson last Wednesday evening at Carmody Hall.

In attendance were Dean Hitchcock and Dean Fisk, and the four housemothers of the dormitories involved—Mrs. Cutler, Mrs. Crum, Mrs. Sears, and Mrs. Barth. Student representatives included the presidents and social commissioners for each of the dormitories.

Dr. Samuelson presented a number of suggestions for an improved social program, which will be referred to the membership of each dormitory for their approval.

Suggestions included the use of the Walnut Street Dining Hall for dances and parties, open houses for women guests in the men's dormitory lounges on Wednesday evening and Sunday afternoons following the exchange dinners, dinner programs on guest nights, and arrangements for smaller parties in the living rooms of the various dormitories.

If these suggestions are approved by the students, the program will be set up immediately. It is not intended that this program operate in competition to the all-college social program, but that it serve as a supplement. It is in line with the fire-sides, private parties and other social activities which are being held in the larger dormitories.

From P. L. C. Did I or did I not see a horse parked outside of the Student Union Building with its motor running? This incident happened last Sunday while the day girls were inside cleaning up after their party of the night before. It might be a nice way to get around but sort of hard on the lawn, don't you think, or was he campus-broken?

Central Gives Aid To French Relief

By DOUG POAGE

Central's own French Relief Drive was initiated last week by Miss Jacqueline Martin and the Language classes.

The purpose of this drive is to collect food, clothing, and money to send to those without the bare essentials of life in France.

A puppet show was presented to the elementary school last Thursday by Miss Martin. Following the show, which delighted the youngsters infinitely, Miss Irene Hallberg, assistant professor of education told of the help the French children needed, and how their contributions would help the children of France.

It is hoped that everyone will bring something to deposit in the box located in Mrs. Annette Hitchcock's office. If everyone will make a contribution every Monday by the end of the drive a considerable amount will have been collected.

Among the articles needed and acceptable are candy bars, soap, clothes, noodles, flour, gum, coffee, chocolate, sweet cocoa, sugar, dried fruit, canned milk, small cans of fat and oils, packaged soup, rice, spaghetti, packaged cookies, oatmeal, peanuts, crackers, baby clothing, children's clothing, or any clothing that is serviceable such as old ties, scarfs, shoes, rubbers, or plain materials. If a person wishes, money for postage, five cents and up is acceptable and welcomed.

"X" CLUB OUTLINES PLAN OF PROCEDURE

By WARREN FAULKNER

The recently organized social science study group now officially known as the "X" Club has been accepted as an official organ of the Student Government Association by the Executive Council. This club was formed with the objective of giving those students interested in social science a greater opportunity to meet and discuss that field of study.

At the last regular meeting, club members unanimously decided that broad objectives of a proper integration of the social sciences were obvious, and that much time might be wasted in furthering the discussion along this line.

Attention was focused upon the possibility of organizing a class or seminar for advanced students in which they could devise methods of synthesizing the social sciences with the eventual achievement of basic social goals in mind. It is hoped that such a class might carry college credit.

Realizing that such a task presented manifold complexities, it was decided that each member of the classes anticipate everyone will participate in this drive and help bring cheer to some of the French people in need. The language classes and Miss Martin request you to look through your wardrobe and give those clothes you have outgrown, or those which have gone out of style to this worthy drive.

a committee to gather information on how such a class could be formed, and to find precisely what its goals should be. The club plans to communicate with Reed College and other progressive institutions to ascertain what they are doing in this virtually untouched field of study.

Phillip Parker served as chairman in charge of the program of this meeting. The chairmanship rotates each meeting; a different member arranging the program in each individual required manner.

Members of this group are: Parker, Willy Pool, Jim Martin, John Martin, John Garney, Molly P. Hewson, Jack Shore, Don Dowie, Russ Cammon, Warren Faulkner, Carl Carlson, Gene Mayer, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. McDougal, and Gerald Varner. Mr. Seldon Smyser is the club advisor.

Western Washington College, Bellingham, Wash. "For years and years news reporters and interested students have butted their heads up against the solid wall of indifference erected by other students as assurance that nothing but choice bits of gossip or other minor trivialities should manage to eke into their vacuumized spheres of influence . . . This election week once again their assurances paid off. Not a thought seeped through the hard packed pores of 950 students concerning Wednesday's election . . . But why waste paper, time, ribbon printers effort and space for something that if of no values or interest to three-fourths of the student body anyway. Go on . . . turn the page to the gossip columns . . ."

Eastern Washington College, Cheney, Wash. "Students must have opportunity to avail themselves of the aesthetic and the cultural as well, so that the emotional, the spiritual, the philosophic life is not neglected . . . It is the earnest desire of the college that more students become aware of their responsibility as college students and make plans to avail themselves of all possible offerings which enable them to become valuable citizens."

Pacific Lutheran College, Parkland, Wash. "We of PLC recognize officials as a necessary device for maintaining law and order. Officials are grand; I'd like to see a real one. My total experience on that score of late boils down to unhappy misadventures with various rougues and bandits who wandered into our gym by mistake. It's getting so that a person is forced to feel for his wallet to see if they haven't got away with more than the union scale demands. Give them an inch and they'll take the building. I will say this for them, they have re-written the rule book quite a few times since the season began. A fellow by the name of Hoyle must be writhing in his crypt."

Reed College, Portland, Ore. "Lest the student body get out of the habit of voting on constitutional amendments, we have several possibilities that the Council might present in the next general election . . . This present good mood may not last long; while it does we shall hand out a few well deserved laurel wreaths. First of all, the new student council deserves a pat on the back for the energy with which it is attacking the SU (student union) redecoration plan . . . We at Reed have grown rather accustomed to the slings and arrows of outraged peoples, to being called political dirty-names . . . Though it hasn't had a communist flag for years and never has had a facist one. Reed is highly suspect hereabouts . . . Speaking seriously, the world is almost wholly split into the two camps of reaction and revolution . . . This camp would like to use factories now to produce goods of peace, not of war; it would like to teach the people now to laugh, not to hate. Between those who fight for the future and those who fight for the past are some who would like to live without fear in the present. That may become, of course, impossible. But remember; the only winners in atomic war are the laws of physics; and they don't care."

Upsala College, East Orange, N. J "It doesn't require much energy to congratulate the winner after he has attained his goal. The gesture is honest and sincere, but when it really counts is when your favorite is striving toward the goal."

VETVILLE NEWS

By MRS. KEN KNOWLTON

I think we all were hoping the measles were gone to stay, but unfortunately, it doesn't look like it Phil Peltonen, ten months old, had them last week.

We are saying goodbye to two couples of the Vetville family at the end of this quarter. Mr. and Mrs. Dean Vance will be attending the University of Nebraska. Their unit will be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. George Harris. Mr. and Mrs. Mel Day are also leaving. They are going to Anchorage Alaska. Their unit will be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Bill Parker.

Beverly Dalrymple and Georgianne Hartl and Bobby and Johnny spent an afternoon last week at Phyl Miletich's.

The Clemens' had as their guests from Snohomish last week. Mrs. Bill Stevens, and Mrs. Harry Stearns.

Visiting the Berreth's over the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Stephens from Zillah, and Joe Stephens who is attending Gonzaga university in Spokane.

Ann Curtis had a card party at her house last week. Those attending were Phyllis Lape, Cathy Weed, Morah Peltonen, Phyl Miletich, and Delores La Mott.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Foster and daughter Rachel were in Coulee City visiting last weekend.

Jackie Bassett was two years old last Friday, February 27.

Lynn Jensen also had a second birthday, on February the 11th.

Sandy Oakland had her birthday February 5th, and she wants everyone to know she is five years.

Little Dennis O'Dea was six months old last Sunday, and he had a nice birthday cake, and company. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Dave Hartl and son Johnny.

Say, people . . . remember when we put the sign, "Go Slow" up? Well, it's spring again, and the little children are outside playing a lot of the time. The danger is still alive—that of a child getting hit by a car. Please, GO SLOW. EVERY CHILD IS LOVED, and we don't want them hurt. Perhaps it is going to be necessary to put an arterial or the equivalent at the entrance out on eleventh, to remind us to go slow. Won't you slow up before someone it hurt?

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hodges who lived in Vetville all last year were in Ellensburg visiting last weekend Bob is teaching in Shelton, but plans on attending the U. of Washington this summer, and Betty and Becky will be in Ellensburg, with Bob's folks. It was so good to see them again!

Knitting Club met at Dolores La Mott's last meeting. It was very nice, with about 12 in attendance, and we were served strawberry shortcake and coffee.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Slaughter, and son Jimmy have had as their guest, Mrs. William Erickson, Mrs. Slaughter's sister, who is from Seattle.

Andy Weir's mother and sister Betty, visited from Sunday to Tuesday. They are from Waitsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Webber were in Anacortes visiting over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Jensen celebrated their anniversary on the 20th of February.

Sunday guests with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schnurr were Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Watters and son Pinky. They are from Seattle.

Try this on your inquisitive friends. Washington, having been asked by an officer on the morning of a battle what his plans were for the day, replied in a whisper, "Can you keep a secret?" On being answered in the affirmative, the general added, "So can I."

Platoon Leaders Class Has Commission Openings

CW Assists In National Red Cross Fund Drive

Lieutenant Forrest Keyes, who is attending Central Washington College, will talk with students interested in enrollment in the Marine Corps P. L. C. program.

Under this program, freshmen sophomores and juniors can earn second lieutenant's commissions in the Marine Corps Reserve without taking military training during the academic year since PLC training comes entirely during summer vacation months.

After completion of the summer training and graduation with a baccalaureate degree, Platoon Leaders Class members are commissioned in the Marine Corps Reserve. A limited number of graduates have the opportunity of accepting a commission in the regular Marine Corps.

Students as well as faculty members and all other employees of the college are urged to give to the Red Cross Drive which began this week. Contributions should be made through the college Red Cross Drive chairman, Dr. A. J. Foy Cross, and will be received anytime this week.

Disaster service, the blood bank and veterans assistance are the big projects which will need far more capital than ever before, Dr. Cross said.

The alley cats around here are sure clever. They travel in pairs now and each of them closes one eye. How on earth can you get rid of them now by shooting them between the eyes?

ALFORD HALL HAS PRIVATE DANCE

"Alford Hall is on the ball," so the boys from Alford are saying after having their first social function of the quarter. Dancing was enjoyed by about 20 couples at the women's gym from 8:30 until 11:30 last Friday evening.

Don Carr, social commissioner for Alford was in charge of all arrangements with Walter Hoeffling serving as chairman of the refreshments committee. Serving on the clean-up

TRUTH ANONYMOUS

By BENNY JARRETT

Hello again peoples. This is your roving raving reporter with just a few choice bits that have come in via the grapevine.

While eating in the mess hall the other day, I looked up just in time to see Marilyn Arnold sticking her tongue out at me and trying desperately to waggle her ears at the same time. I'm sorry dear readers but she does not hate me as you hoped. It just happens that Larry McClain was sitting at the table behind me and returning same facial expressions at her. May I caution you two that the mess hall is no place to be affectionate.

Last week I told you how Marilyn Arnold had the flu and then caught the measles. I wish to congratulate her on the recovery from the latter, and at the same time offer my sympathies regarding her tonsillitis.

Can anyone tell me how come there are four or five people around the campus with adhesive tape across their upper lip? It couldn't have been a fight, unless the fellows have been beating up on our fair sex.

Last week Floyd Schumacher had a song dedicated to all the women on the C.W.C. campus. He thinks that since Les McNab has been giving lectures to all the women's groups around the campus he might as well take credit for it, but he is sure that Les made the request in his name.

committee were Ray Carr, Leo Hannan, and Walter Hoeffling.

This is one of a number of events planned by Alford hall throughout the college year. Under the hall constitution they are to have at a minimum two social events per quarter. The social commissioner is making tentative plans for some other function before the termination of the winter quarter.

Last Friday's dance was somewhat of a test to see how well the members of Alford hall would attend. The results being satisfactory a bigger dance is being planned for the spring quarter.

ing lectures to all the women's groups around the campus he might as well take credit for it, but he is sure that Les made the request in his name.

Tony, an aspiring lad from Munro was seen out on the railroad tracks the other day picking up a lot of rocks. The question that has arisen is whether he is going to throw them at his girl friend or at his geology professor.

Marie Nelson was setting in the library the other night and looking very lonesome. She sat there and looked around until about nine-thirty. Suddenly her face lit up and it seemed as if life had suddenly been renewed. Can you guess who came in the door? No? Well it was Dick Torrens. Shame on you for keeping her waiting so long, Dick.

Jim Satterlee was at the game in North Bend vs Issaquah a week ago. He didn't get excited at all during the actual playing, but you should have seen the heart to heart talk he was having with some of the fellows after the game. Were you giving or getting points, Jim?

Bill Hassen is checking tickets at the Walnut street dorms now in place of Jim Smith and is doing a swell job. The only thing is, Bill you are supposed to check the tickets and not the person's teeth to see if they can consume all of their food. I know that the boiled potatoes are tough but one must draw the line somewhere.

Gail Farrell was up in the Crier office doing Dan Ranniger's typing for him while he dictated. When he burst out with "I have a confession to make," everyone immediately tried to help me type my column. We all cooled off though, when we found out that he was just quoting from "Death Ruth."

Mr. Hertz: "Clifton, I play the white keys; I play the black keys and you keep right on singing in the cracks."

String Ensemble Feature Hay Ride

The Central Washington College String Ensemble wasn't fiddling around when they visited the McKnight farm for a hay ride recently.

Herbert A. Bird director of the ensemble donned old clothes, and with his wife joined the group for the ride. Nature offered all she had for the perfect evening; full moon millions of stars, snow on the ground, and a cool brisk evening. The ride which lasted for about an hour and a half, was enjoyed by 19 musicians and guests. With horses pulling the wagon the ride was true to every meaning of a hay ride.

Returning to the McKnight farm after the hay ride, all were taken by automobile to Kamola hall where a chili dinner was served by Lois McKnight, Art Holcomb, and coffee prepared by Mrs. Herbert Bird.

The evening was concluded by Mr. Bird with his relating amusing experiences which occurred during the time he served with the Army.

The string ensemble consists of 11 pieces under the direction of Mr. Bird. The ensemble has played for several recitals this college year, and plan to participate in recitals in the future.—D.P.

Wildcats Cop Pair From St. Martin's To Take Third In Winco Standings

Central Washington College closed out their Winco league schedule last weekend in Olympia with a clean sweep of a two game series with the St. Martins Rangers. Central took an early lead in the first game and won easily, 57-30 but had to come from behind in the last minute of play to cop the second tilt 50-49.

The Wildcats built up a 12 to 1 lead in the first nights action before St. Martins could get a field goal. Dean Dion, broke the ice with a lay in shot after nine minutes of play had elapsed. The desperate Rangers put on their best rally of the evening midway of the second quarter and drew within five points of Central. With the score 16-11, the Cats put a damper on Ranger scoring and pulled out to a comfortable 30-16 halftime advantage.

Ben Fuchs, St. Martins guard, opened the second half with a free throw. The Cats retaliated with three quick field goals, Dallman swished one from the corner, Graham tipped in another and Nicholson rifled in a long one to send Central in to a commanding 36 to 17 lead.

Coach Leo Nicholson of Central, swept the bench clean of players in the last quarter and the Central subs stretched the lead to 28 points before the final gun sounded.

Dean Nicholson continued his high scoring ways by banging in 18 points to lead all scorers. Milt Dallman, Central's long shot artist, netted 12.

Jack Graham and Chuck Long who usually account for a good share of Central's points with tip in shots were held pretty well in check by the Rangers two towering freshmen, Dean Dion and Jack Swartz. Backboard work between the four was about even Swartz was high man for the Saints with 7.

The second game was a dyed in the wool thriller from start to finish. Central started out like a house on fire and most spectators believed a repetition of the previous nights game was in the offing but St. Martins caught on fire themselves and from there on the game was so close the spectators hardly had time to sit down.

The first half ended with St. Martins clinging to a 30 to 27 advantage. Central tied it up with three foul shots in the opening minutes of the second half and the lead started to see saw again.

Coming down to the final wire the never say die Rangers managed to pull out in front 48 to 45. Jim Adamson, playing his last game for Central, drew two foul shots with a minute and a half remaining. His first attempt was good and the Cats elected to take the ball out of bounds in an attempt to tie up the ball game. Their strategy payed off; Dean Nicholson dribbled down the side and swished one to tie up the ball game. Nicholson was fouled while making his game tying shot and his subsequent foul shot broke the tie. Dion tied it all up at 49-49 a few seconds later with another foul shot. With exactly 25 seconds of play remaining, little Harvey Wood who had entered the game only a minute previously calmly stepped to the free throw line. The entire gymnasium was a bedlam, a handful of Central rooters were trying to outshout a packed house full of St. Martins adherants. Wood netted his foul try and the game ended with a frenzied Ranger quint trying to break up a Central stall.

St. Martins lost three men via the foul route late in the contest and the complexion of the game might have been different had they stayed in there. Linnenkohl, Fuchs, and Backrodt were the players lost Larry Downen left the game in the fourth quarter with five personals, for Central.

Foul shooting was the difference between the two teams. Central garnered 13 of 16 attempts in the last half and 18 for 26 in the entire game. St. Martins netted 9 out of 19 tries. The Rangers outshot the Wildcats from the field, 20 goals to 16.

Dean Nicholson was high again with 17 points to his credit. Dean Dion potted 16 for the Rangers Larry Downen of Central and Ben Fuchs of St. Martins counted each turned in good floor games.

The double win gave Central undisputed possession of third place over Whitworth who split with second place Eastern over the weekend. For St. Martins it meant their 16th straight conference defeat.

The closet game of the week saw the Flyers take a 34-33 victory from the "W"-Club. The Flyers, currently resting in third place, had trouble checking the fast and accurate shooting "W" men. Lelinski again led Flyer scoring with 12 points. Spring was low for the "W" men. Kyes leading with nine points.

Thunderbird hopes dropped again Tuesday night when they lost their eighth game of the season 41-33 to the Off-Campus No. 2 squad. For the No. 2 five Angerman had 12 centers while Johnson hit the twine for 11 for the losers.

SHORT SHOTS

By TONY ADELIN

Kicking on its last legs basketball is being laid away for a rest until next year at Central Washington. The Wildcats wound up their season in third place by sweeping a doubleheader with St. Martins on the coast floor. The Wildcats fell short in their bid to overcome Eastern, when the Savages split their series with Whitworth.

More than just a chance at the Winco champ, PLC, was being decided last Monday when Gonzaga and C.P.S. met here last Monday. In addition to a trip to Kansas City the winner has a chance for an Olympic team berth. The winner of the K. C. tourney will enter the Olympic tryouts to be held later this spring.

Baseball, track, tennis and other spring sports will soon be underway. It is not too early to plan for spring intramurals. Spring intramurals will hold the points to determine the winner of the Nicholson trophy.

If the Wildcats are able to schedule a series in baseball with the Yakima Jaycees, Central fans may see one of the most powerful teams in the state. The Jaycees are the defending champs in the Washington state junior college conference. From their team of last year they have over a dozen returning lettermen. Last year this team outit the professional Yakima Stars team in a preseason exhibition game. Central won the odd game in a hot series last year.

Two more players were added to baseball's Hall of Fame last week. They were Pie Traynor, of the Pittsburgh Pirates, and the late Herb Pennock, left hander of the New York Yankees. This brings the total in the Hall of Fame to 48.

The professional heavy weight championship is becoming more involved daily. Joe Louis has stated that he will retire after he fights Jersey Joe Walcott in June, however, he has forced Walcott to sign for a return match in case Jersey Joe wins. Jersey Joe signed for the return bout so he could get another crack at the title he already holds in the eyes of many.

The Police Gazette before an audience of 5000 presented the heavyweight "championship" belt to Jersey Joe. The Gazette is claiming Walcott is the champ. So, in June both contestants for the championship will be the titleholder.

Here and There: Thanks for the letter, Dunc. The Crier sports section is always open to criticism. We will try to give you the material that the students want.

To the students: When the alma mater of a school is played the students are expected to sing or at least stand until the band has finished playing. At the last conference game at home about fifteen students were still in the stands when the band had finished playing. How about it?

In answer to a reply from Eastern concerning the officiating I have only one comment. You stated that if I knew the facts behind the choosing of the officials it would clear up my mind. Just what were the facts behind the choosing of the officials for the game in question?

Ophir, Oregon High school will be closed during the Class B basketball tourney this year. The entire school of four girls and ten boys will go to the tournament to compete. Only nine boys will see action though, since one of the team is out with a broken leg.

Nicholson Moves Up In Scoring

Adding 35 points to his total in the series against St. Martins, Dean Nicholson became the second player in the Northwest to score over 400 points.

Only Harry McLaughlin leads Nicholson in the scoring race. Although he has scored 79 points more than Nicholson, the Ellensburg ace has scored only eight less field goals.

McLaughlin has made 170 field goals and 140 free shots for a total of 480 points, while Nicholson has sunk 162 field goals and 77 free throws for a total of 401.

Although he may slip down in the standings since some of the other leaders still have games to play Nicholson still has a good chance to end in the upper group since he ranks third in averages.

Only McLaughlin of PLC with an average of 16 points and Jim Johnson of Willamette with an average of 14.7 points per game lead Nicholson's average of 14.6 points per game.

Cats Play WWC In Season Opener

Playing against the Western Washington Vikings, the Central Washington Wildcats will open their baseball season with a doubleheader on April 10.

Turnouts for pitchers and catchers for the Varsity baseball squad have started in the gym this week. The rest of the squad will turn out as soon as the weather warms up and the field dries out enough.

Main job for Coach Arne Faust will be to find a capable mound staff. No positions are definite and none will be filled until Faust has a chance to see the entire squad work out.

In addition to the regular league schedule it is hoped that the Wildcats will also be able to play Everett J. C. and Yakima J. C.

The Winco league will be split into two sections, the eastern and western halves. PLC, St. Martins and Western Washington will play in the coast section, while Central Eastern and Whitworth will play in the east half.

Winners of the two sections will meet in a playoff for the league championships. The playoffs this year will be held east of the mountains.

The Central schedules includes:

April 10, Western Washington, here (doubleheader)

April 16, Western Washington, there

April 17, PLC, there (doubleheader)

April 23, PLC, here (doubleheader)

May 1, Whitworth, here (doubleheader)

May 8, Eastern Washington, there

Danish Janitor Comments, Crier

By BOB SLINGLAND

The Campus Crier as a whole seems to satisfy the reading wants of both students and faculty members alike in the opinion of A. P. Jacobsen, the iron-grey mustachioed gentleman seen daily ambling through the halls of the classroom building, dustmop in hand.

Pete, as he is more commonly known, is a remarkably well read man and during his four years at Central Washington College as janitor, he has heard many comments about The Crier. Some of the comments were not so good, but from all he has heard and from his own opinion, "this years paper is a good paper," he said.

During his years on a Nebraska farm and in the north woods this old Danish fellow has collected a vast store of knowledge and his opinions on current subjects seem to carry the weight of much reading and studying.

"A good sound item of criticism like that Scott boy gave Dr. McConnell and the president's reply, for example," he said, "is good." Good criticism that will benefit one is essential, Pete believes. "Keep the criticism clean, wholesome, and refreshing and you help your paper," Pete said.

He also believes that gossip has its place in the college paper. Not the kind of gossip that is cynical or smears someone's name. The Crier carries out its gossip column pretty well, Pete thinks.

With these last reflections old Pete shuffled off down the hall. You see he still had some rooms to sweep and it was 8:30 already.

WHY I smoke Chesterfield

(FROM A SERIES OF STATEMENTS BY PROMINENT TOBACCO FARMERS)

"Liggett & Myers buy as fine tobacco as there is grown. They buy only mild, sweet cigarette tobacco."

"I smoke only Chesterfield cigarettes and I have smoked them right from the start."
